The defendants pleaded not guilty, with the stipulation, which was agreed to by the District Attorney, that they might, on or before the 18th of September next, withdraw that plea and enter any other plea or motion they might see fit. It is understood that the defendants, under this stipulation, will, when the case is again called, either demur to the indictment or move to quash it. After several pleas had been entered, District Attorney Birney gave potice that several cases would be called for trial at the beginning of the term in October next. There was only the neual crowd present during the arraignment, and there was no demonstration of any kind or evidence of unusual interest shown.

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)
Charlottesville, Va., July 28.—Telegrams to various places inquiring about Mrs. Cofin have proved of no avail, and the fate of the missing woman is no nearer solution than on the day of her mysterious disappearance. The search has continued all day in different sections than those gone over. Last night one C. E. Bishop, a brakeman on the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, told a sensational story to the effect that on Monday night he walked with Mrs. Coffin from this place to within a few hundred yards of Cobham Station, "about fourteen miles," where he left her.

Upon investigation his story proved to be false from beginning to end, and last night he was visited by a party of indignant citizens, and but for the interference of the police just as the man was being carried to a field for punishment, he would doubtless have been severely dealt with. Bishop was placed in jail but was liberated at 10 o'clock this morning.

Soon after a citizen swore out a warrant for his arrest, but the man had disappeared. He bears a bad character.

Thomasyllis, N. C., July 27.—This has been a great day for the Baptist Orphange here. The annual meetings, which are held about the 25th of July every year, are very interesting occasions. This meeting was held to-day and it was estimated that the crowd numbered at least 2,500.

Rev. R. L. Patten, of Morganton, preached the annual sermon, which was well received. His thome was "Self-Sacrifice in Christian Giving." He preached at 11 o'clock to a vast throng, after which a collection was taken for the orphange. Besides the sermon there were other exercises, such as songs and recitations by the children, which were very highly enjoyed by the great audience.

In the afternoon Mr. E. E. Hilliard, editor of the Scotland Neck Democrat, delivered the annual address. His theme was "The Harvest Ahead." After the address another collection was taken up for the orphanage and then the great crowd dispersed. The meeting of the Board of Trustees was very harmonious, and every department of the work of the institution is better then it has aver been before is better than it has ever been before. PRAISEWORTHY OBJECTS.

PRAISEWORTHY OBJECTS.

The institution appeals to the Baptists of the State for earnest support, and there never has been an institution within the borders of the State whose objects and aspirations were more praiseworthy than the Baptist Orphanage at Thomasville. Everybody who to-day attended the annual meeting went away pleased and happy to see so many children made happy, well cared for, and trained in all that is necessary to make them good men and women.

In connection with the other work of the orphanage there is a farm of more than 300 acres, on which are produced large quantities of corn and wheat that go towards helping support the orphans. Also, leave entities of costs and hay that are

JEALOUS OF A SINGER.

Russell Off a Race Track.

A Chicago dispatch says: Miss Lillian Russell has become so popular among the club men of Chicago as to arcuse a very ludicrous opposition by the wives of the club men to her appearance at public places, where it was possible for the fair singer to receive the attentions of the men. During the early days of the Washington Fark race meeting, which closed last Saturday, Miss Russell was a frequent attendant at the races. Upon all these occasions she was a guest of some member of the club and was given the run of the club-house in common with the wives, daughters, and sweethearts of the club members. When Miss Russell appeared on the piazza of the club-house all the men there sought an introduction and the amount of attention she received would have satisfied Cleopatra.

The other women, bandsome as some of them were, feit slighted by the honor paid the queen of song, and took measures to put a stop to it. They first appealed to their husbands or lovers to let the beautiful Lillian alone. When this appeal was unavailing they went to the officers of the club and made objections to the presence among them of an opera singer. They were so vociferous and butter in their denunciations of her that, in self-defence and to stop the unseemly row, President Henry T. Wheeler, of the Washington-Park Club, issued an order to the servants of the club to refuse Miss Russell admission to the club to refuse Miss Russell admission Russell Off a Race Track.

This order was unknown to the singer until one day when she appeared there with a party on a cosch. The men at the gates refused to let Miss Russell's coach within the gates, and she was forced to return to the city. Mr. Davis, manager of the Columbia Theatre, went to Mr. Wheeler and asked him what was meant by such treatment. Mr. Wheeler told the story of the onslaught made on him by the belles and dames at the club-house, and declared that the was only a proof of the charm which Miss Russell and the discussionly a proof of the charm which Miss Russell unconactously exerted.

Both Miss Russell and the officers of the Washington-Fark Club refused to discuss the affair at the club-house. The queer part of it is that the club has on its roster the names of many men whose careers have been as remarkable as Miss Russell's from the theatrical standpoint. With such men among its members it is ludicrous for the club to put its standard of morality too high, not taking into consideration the fact that all the expenses of the club are paid by the receipts from its gambling privileges.

HIS THROAT CUT. The Latter Dead-The Former May Recover-Origin of the Trouble

(By telegraph to the Dispatch.)

RUSSELLVILLE, ALA., July 28 .- A tragedy here to-day. During the trial of a divorce case a difficulty arose between John Ligon and Line and Clark Richardson, two brothers, which resulted in Ligon's shooting Line Richardson in the left shoulder, Gables in completing his message to Congress.

recover, but Ligon is dead.

Ligon married Mrs. Richardson, the mother of Line and Clark. He was so disagreeable that she was forced to leave him some months ago. She sued for a divorce, and during the trial here today Ligon made some scandalous remarks about her. Line Richardson gave him the lie. Ligon called young Richardson a vile name, drew his pistol and fired, and was in the act of shooting again when Clark Richardson rushed to the rescue and cut his throat from one ear to the other, his knife thus saving, his brother's life.

Everybody who to day attended the annual meeting went away pleased and happy to see so many children made happy, well cared for, and trained in all that is necessary to make them good men and women.

In connection with the other work of the orphanage there is a farm of more than 300 acres, on which are produced large quantities of corn and wheat that go towards helping support the orphans. Also, large quantities of oats and hay that are used for the stock on the farm.

The institution is under fine management and the prospects are bright for great enlargement of the work and for a much larger number of orphans even next year.
